These were the thoughts that thronged the streets of the city to-day. I have received most cordial greetings from the thousands of people who not, however, understand the loud acclamations as to any sense appropriate as a personal tribute to myself. I have realized that the tribute of the people, on such an occasion, and in all these historic incidents, which have made it so profoundly impressive to my mind, which was above and greater than any living man. (Applause.) I have realized the tribute of the people, which you manifested, rendered to that great office, which by favor of a greater people, I now exercise. The occasion and all its incidents will be remembered as a part of the history of your own city, but in the history of our country.

I congratulate you to-day as one of the fairest and most interesting features of this occasion, that the great thoroughfares, roads, and to trade, have closed their doors and covered up the insignias of commerce, your great exchanges have closed and have exhibited the spirit of the occasion, an observance of the celebration in which we are participating. I believe that patriotism has been interested in many hearts and that the people of the city, who have loved patriotism has been placed in a higher and holier face in many hearts. The bunting with which you have covered your walls and these patriotic inscriptions must go down and

Wages and Trade Resumed Again

Here, may I not ask you to carry these inscriptions that now hang on the walls into your homes? Into the schools of your city into all your great institutions where children are gathered, and teach them that the eve of youth and old should look upon that flag as one of the familiar glories of every American. Have we not learned by the sad experience of the past that our country? It is a spiritual thought that in our minds—It is the flag and what it stands for. It is the friends and home, it is the life and the future of our hearts, for it is a spiritual which of martyrs to liberty. It is the grave-yard into which the dominion of this country has been laid. It is the flag of the men who did that the thing might live. Which we love and our country, and then anything that can be touched or seen. Let me say that the flag is the symbol of our country for us never have we been so well equipped for war upon land and now, and we have never seen it so now when our country is so much in need of it.

To unite our people in all that make home comfortable as well as to give our energies in a direction of material dynamism, this service has been rendered up to this great demonstration. Let us draw lessons to inspire us to consecrate ourselves anew to this love and service of our country.

At the conclusion of the report the President received a committee from St. Francis Xavier College who presented him with a tribute written in the various languages of the world. The committee did not meet and addressed to Washington D. C. America.

In a few words that President expressed sincere thanks to the faculty of St. Francis Xavier College for the presentation to his former classmate, Rev. J. Dennis B. I.

LOCAL MATTERS.

The brig Fidella arrived in this port last night with a cargo of coal for A. H. Babcock.

Mr. W. S. Carr, of this city, is having a new cottage erected at Pashaw Pond. It is in an excellent location upon Pashaw Point.

Prof. L. D. Vostora will deliver his lecture upon "The Study of Dante" at City Hall on the evening of May 6th at 7.30 o'clock.

High tides prevail in the river at the present time, from the effects of the rise in the upper river water, and the current is rather swift.

Several vessels are on their way to this port to receive cargoes of ice for different places. It is understood that two or three will be loaded for the West Indies.

The phango yesterday from rals and clouds to pleasant weather and a blue sky was an agreeable one. The rain is not to be regretted, however, as it was much needed.

Mr. E. J. Murch is the purchaser of the property on Hammond street next to the new brick engine house sold at auction yesterday forenoon by Mr. C. S. Pearl. The price paid was $10.00.

A crew has begun work upon the foundation for the new house to be built by Mr. B. L. Kludner upon Union street, just opposite the head of Charles street. The house is of handsome and comfortable design.

The steamer Lucy T. Miller arrived in this port yesterday afternoon from New York with her colors flying in honor of Centennial Day. She had the usual large cargo of merchandise for merchants in this city and vicinity.

Centennial Day passed in this city without any special observance, except the display of flags upon the public buildings and many of the factories and private residences. The clothing stores were closed in the afternoon.

Commander in Chief T. Warner of the G. A. R. has issued an order designating May 30th as Memorial Day and calling for contributions of flags and flowers to be used in decorating the graves of Union soldiers in Southern cemeteries.

Robert O'Brien, who is employed at a nail in Old Town, is at with a painful accident. He was engaged in work about the machinery and got the forefinger of his left hand caught in the logs of a wheel with there, so that the member was taken off.

The entry logs in the Ten Cows boom were sold at auction yesterday forenoon at 70 Exchange street, at E. J. H. Webster, where the purchases. The price was eight and three-fourths cents for spruce and eight and one-half cents for hemlock.

While Mr. George Ross of Vaneborow is working on Sunday a stone fell from his office roof striking Mr. Ross heavily in the eye. Fortunately no injury was done beyond bruising the flesh quite badly and Mr. Ross will soon recover from the accident.

The first lawn game of the Maine College League will be played yesterday at Brunswick by the Bowdoin and Colby schools. It resulted in favor of the Bowdoin by a score of 11 to 3. Next Saturday the Bowdoin and M. S. C. will play at Orono.

Mr. Norman Lowe has been admitted to the firm of J. C. Lowe & Co. Mr. Lowe, who has been with the firm for several years as clerk, is a young man of excellent business ability, and will undoubtedly be successful in his new business capacity.

Governor Burleigh has appointed John D. Whit, Esq. of Portland to be collector from Maine to the Paris Exposition. This is presumably in place of E. H. Mallet, Esq. of Freeport, who has been appointed to decline on account of business matters requiring his attention at home.

Mr. S. G. Studley, a well known banker of Boston, and Mr. J. B. Newhall of Oakland the water power engineers, were in the city yesterday in business connected with the removal of the electric light plant from this city to Vassie. The removal will be made at no distant date and surveys have already been made; Vassie with that object in view.

The first game of croquet ever played by the electric light in Maine and probably in the country, was to have come off last evening at the grounds of Mr. A. H. Chadbourne, on Webster street. Augusta. A large number of spectators had gathered but the game was suspended, directly over a center wicket will be necessary make the grounds as light as day. It is expected that some interesting contests will come off every evening.

For several days fog and head winds have prevailed in the city and outside and the progress of sailing vessels has been much retarded on that account. For this reason arrivals in the port have been rather scarce. The fog clearing and change of winds, however, will enable the vessels to reach their ports quickly and early. Quite a large number are on their way to this city with cargoes.

The Bangor High School nine went to Orono yesterday afternoon and defeated the Maine State College team by a score of 16 to 12. Scully, formerly of the M. S. C. pitched two innings for the High School men and Blackington, of the M. S. C., the remainder. The game was decided through out and at times exciting. The outfield was in rather poor condition but the diamond was in quite a good state.

Our Orono correspondent writes "This Wednesday evening there will be a musical, literary and spectacular entertainment at the Town Hall, given under the direction of the ladies of St. Mary's Catholic Church, Orono, to which the public are invited." Mr. Franklino Morrill, of Bangor has been named to give an exhibition of tight rope walking. Good singing by Bangor and Orono talent of acknowledged ability.

No Surrender Lodge No. 22, I. O. G. F. had their quarterly election of officers last evening at their hall, in Exchange Block. The following officers were elected for the ensuing year: Bertwell E. Whitten, C. T.; Wm. Ames, V. T.; Wm. Lander, Secretary; Florence Decker, F. H.; Guy P. Bailey, Treasurer; Miss J. Lundgren, C. Fred Russell, M.; Mary Peterson, G. S. Matherson, S. W.; H. P. Pitcher, L. D.; Mrs. V. A. Plesher, S. T.

At a recent meeting of the Trustees of Colby University it was voted to proceed with the erection of the new physical laboratory, funds for which have been generously contributed by H. C. Shannon, Esq. Plans of the building have been drawn by John O. Levee, the Portland architect. The Trustees of Colby University have been notified to contribute the $25,000 building fund in the form of a gift.

The members of the Maine delegation, who are at New York will probably leave there to-night.

The Maine Central Railroad officers moved into the new office building on Portland Saturday. The office furniture was brought round from the old building on Commercial street by a train of six flat-car form cars. Everything is ready for business and now all the officers of the company are bound under one roof. The grounds around the station are being beautified by the addition of two fountains of ornamental design, and when summer comes the Maine Central premises will present a very attractive appearance.

HIGH WATER Owing to the high water up river the water mills and the Great Works pump mill have been obliged to shut down for a time until the water subsides sufficiently so as to enable work to be done. High stages of the station are being driven, however, and those that have been started are coming along nicely with plenty of water. The ice is out of all the streams and lakes, and the increased amount of water is supposed to do us from the West Branch. This season has begun about two weeks earlier than usual, and it is expected that the drives will be in considerably earlier than has been customary, provided everything works favorably. The drivers have almost all gone to the scene of operations and all the logs will soon be on the way to their destinations.

A COMMENDABLE ACT Another lively runaway took place yesterday afternoon and resulted very fortunately. Mr. Grant who resides in West Buxton left his horse which was trained to back a stage at the foot of Prospect street for a few moments while he went to a stable adjacent thereto. While absent his horse broke came frightened and ran off down Hollow street, walking first backward and then forward. He went through Conant's track and crossed the main highway going at a running gallop and a lively trot. The runaway was seen by Mr. Henry R. J. of Lewiston, truckman and he caught the animal by the bridle a day or so since stepped him. It was fortunate that he did so for the ten we would have killed with a carriage containing a lady and her child had it gone so short a distance further! It was a most commendable act upon the part of Mr. Travel.

CENTENNIAL SERVICES Union services were held yesterday A.M. at two of the churches to commemorate the centennial of the inauguration of Washington at St. John's Episcopal church there was a large attendance and the services were impressive. They were an exact reproduction of those attended by Washington on the morning of his inauguration. Rev. John McGraw Foster, the rector, officiated and delivered an able and appropriate address. The choir rendered the music of the service. At the First Baptist church the services consisted of a prayer by Rev. G. B. Hays, hymn, choir and congregational singing of the Scriptures by Rev. J. E. Wood. A hearty criticism upon "The Father of His Country" read by Rev. M. Hibel, prayer, Horn Monks Hymns, hymn, article upon the Progress of the country from 1789 to 1889 read by Rev. M. Dosselid. The services were most fitting to the day.

WIMMINES Our correspondent writes: Thomas T. Hayes, formerly a soldier in the Twenty-fifth Regt., Col. Searles' Mass. Infantry, died at his residence, No. 230 E. 6th st. of pneumonia aged about thirty-eight years. He leaves a widow and seven young children. He is said to be in his family. His funeral occurred Sunday at the Catholic church, and was largely attended.—T. W. Merrill, M. D. left Winn on Tuesday morning of last week to take up his residence in Brooklyn. He is son of the late A. H. Merrill of Williamsburg.—The Legislature made a mistake in not putting the bill protecting sheep from the crowd of worthless curs up by irresponsible persons in every town. Several valuable sheep were killed in Winn County, and already a Mr. Albert and Martin Kelly have lost sheep killed by dogs, around Winn Village. There are half a dozen dogs used to worry and kill every sheep within a half mile of the village.—Dolan and Sylvester Knoelsch have taken the contract to build a school house at Winn Village this summer.

MADE VISIBLE Burned.—(The ship Richard P. Buck, Capt. Searles, was taken to the wharf by the steamer "which" sailing for New York, anchorage, Ber Chatham, about to be repaired of the damage sustained in the hurricane experienced the 10th and 11th inst. was discovered to be on fire on the 10th. All efforts to sub due the fire were of no avail notwithstanding assistance was rendered by steaming gladiator with a powerful wrecking pump. The chain cables were slipped and the ship towed toward the shore, near Tank Jetty, where she was scuttled and grounded with her decks under water. The only articles saved were some personal effects and a small portion of stores. The ship is a total loss and all of the cargo is damaged. It is now being taken out by divers and landed. The vessel was built in Bath in 1882 and registered at New Bedford. She was owned by Messrs. P. Buck & Co. of New York. She was commanded by Capt. J. L. Carver, of Somersport, one of the best shipmasters in Maine. The vessel, cargo and freight were valued at $200,000, partially covered by insurance. Advice from Barnauod of April 25th states that laborers were engaged in getting out the unaccounted remnants of the vessel. Her cargo was saved and would be sold at auction on the 27th).

REGIMENTAL LOSS Lieut Col Willam F Fox of Albany, N. Y., who saw service in the One Hundred and Seventh New York Volunteers has compiled, and the Albany Publishing Company has recently published, a work entitled "Regimental Losses in the American Civil War." Of the Heavy Artillery it says: In the Union army there were 32 regiments of heavy artillery. In the spring of 1861 they took the field. Each organization then contained, however, not far from 1,800 men, a number largely in excess of the infantry organizations. In this class of troops the heaviest loss by death, and, indeed, the largest of any organization in the war, was in the Third Maine. This regiment was consolidated with the Second Georgia, then designated with the Third. It had 23 officers and 400 enlisted men killed or died of wounds. It is also remarkable for its percentage of loss by death, that being 19.2 per cent. It killed and wounded numbered 1,283 out of a total enrollment of 1,500. It is also distinguished as having lost the greatest number of men in any one battle of any organization in either army. This was June 18, 1864, at Petersburg. The regiment, then numbering 800, charged upon the enemy's works. It lost 652 is killed and wounded. All casualties, a month previous, it had 478 killed and wounded. The loss of the First Massachusetts Heavy Artillery was also heavy. It lost 311 killed and died of wounds and 280 wounded. A total loss of 591.

This image shows a highly degraded and noisy document page, likely a receipt or ledger. The page is oriented vertically and contains several lines of text, which are mostly illegible due to the quality of the scan. The text appears to be organized into columns, with some lines starting with what might be dates or times (e.g., "1944", "1945"). There are also some numbers and possibly names or descriptions. The page is covered in a dense pattern of black and white noise, making it difficult to read. The overall appearance is that of a very old and poorly preserved document.
